“I have been using this program for almost 10 years and have never had anything that made it so easy to individualize help for students. I am in charge of making all tests and homework for both the 7th and 8th grade classes. This was a nightmare for me. The process of finding problems, copying, cutting and pasting and making sure the layout was correct and “student friendly” would take a least 3 to 4 days (sometimes more). This was repeated every week for homework and every 6 weeks for testing. Now it is much easier. Homework takes only a few hours work and tests about a day. I have been extremely pleased with the program.

Whenever we have had visitors from other school districts tour our building and talk with me about our curriculum. I always tell them about your software. Thank you for making my life easier and for your continued support.”

I wish to thank the creator(s) of the Acces Database for making my job as a high school math teacher considerably easier. This is particularly so at the start of the school year when most of my students are without textbooks. I have found the program very user-friendly and filled with options which give my ‘products’ a professional look on a par with industry. I am especially fond of the attractive headers, the wide range of simple to challenging problems, and the auto advance feature which enables me to turn out whole lessons in only a few seconds at the keyboard.

Your work is a big PLUS for education, and a godsend for any teacher who takes a few minutes to learn how to use it.

Sincere thanks

Jim Dart, Clark HS, San Antonio (TX)

Thanks so much for introducing me to the Acces test writing program. I broke my elbow just before finals this winter and Acces saved me. With only one arm, I very easily and quickly created my finals by using your incredibly large database of problems. With tens of thousands of problems to choose from, I could select the problems that were ‘just right’ for the objectives I was testing.

Since I do not have the precalculus database yet, I very quickly and very easily created a professionally formatted final of my own. In fact, my husband who always ‘cuts and pastes’ his tests created his Algebra final using Acces from beginning to end in less than an hour using the database and even included some custom problems of his own.

I have never seen a test writing problem so powerful; I have never seen a test writing program so easy to use; I have never seen a test writing program so friendly. It was nice to see that EducAide did not sacrifice any aspect of the program to make another more outstanding.

Thanks

Charlotte Scroggs, Mathematics Chair, Denton-Ryan HS (TX)
It is with a deep sense of gratitude that I am writing to congratulate you on your Acces program. I am very impressed with how well you have been able to anticipate and address our needs as mathematics teachers.

First of all, your databases are an excellent resource for drawing questions from, in order to prepare assignments, tests or exams.

I am delighted with the option of being able to prepare an alternate document of similar difficulty to the original, almost instantaneously. This is a godsend for teachers have to prepare tests for multiple classes of the same course, or make-up tests for students who were absent for a test.

I appreciate the convenience of being able to integrate mathematics symbols into text without having to escape to an equation editor. I am particularly impressed with the program's ability to automatically select the correct size of brackets to fit mathematics expressions or matrices of any dimension.

Working with Acces has been a delightful adventure which has been very rewarding and fulfilling. Once again, I congratulate you for your excellence in software.

Yours sincerely

Bill Renoy, Head of Mathematics, Prince Edward CI (ON)

I have been teaching for about 20 years and I have long tried to use time and resources efficiently. Acces gives me that efficiency. Since I am in an alternative setting in which individualizing is highly recommended, Acces is an even better asset.

If my school had not purchased this software, I would have bought it myself. With Acces, I can make many tests at only one sitting without much effort. With the vast database that Acces supports, I can make multiple variations of the same test.

I used to type three variations for each test I had given in the past (to reduce cheating) and it took me hours to do it. Since I can use Acces' vast database, it takes only minutes.

The Typesetting Guide using TeX makes Acces an even better package.

Sincerely

Robert Cohan, Harlandale Corp Acad, San Antonio (TX)
I just wanted to write you to let you know how much help using your company's software, Acces, has been. Even though I have been in the teaching profession for many years, I have never been able to solve the problem of the immense amount of time test-making and worksheet-writing takes. Since Kathy introduced me to Acces, I cannot begin to tell you how much easier my life has been.

What I usually do is use part of your test bank for the start of my work and then personalize my papers from there. What I am so excited about is the ease in which I can do this. The formatting is simple and I no longer have to slave over the keystroking that was so difficult when I was using my word processing package. I am finally convinced that a package that was designed for mathematics is so much better than one that isn't. My only regret is that I didn't use Acces before this year.

Sincerely

Diann Resnick, Bellaire HS, Houston (TX)

I am a Mathcounts coach. Susan Schaeffer and I coach the CHEA MATHCOUNTS group out of Charlotte, NC. We have been using the Acces software to make up our problem sets and cannot believe how easy and quick it is to use. Last year we spent hours typing our problems on a word processor and trying to make the math formulas look right. This year, once we chose problems we wanted from the MATHCOUNTS database, it was only a matter of minutes before a professional-looking document was produced.

I wanted more problems with fractional exponents than could be found in the database, so I thought I would write my own problems. I was apprehensive at first, but the reference manual was very easy to understand and soon I was writing complicated formulas using fractions, radicals and exponents. The improvement over our 'homemade' problem sets is dramatic. Acces has been a wonderful tool and saved countless hours of frustrating work.

Thank you for all your help.

Jean Schoenheit, Charlotte Home Educ Assn (NC)
Acces is a valuable asset to my teaching of mathematics. ...Once I received the program last year, I used it to make daily worksheets for a class of pre-algebra students. I found this to be more effective than using a textbook. ...I was able to make daily worksheets that constantly reviewed old material as well as taught the new topics. In a matter of a just a few minutes, I was able to make worksheets for the entire week. It literally takes only about 5 minutes to create a worksheet or test with the program.

It is my job to train staff on newly acquired programs, and I must say that Acces is one of the easiest programs to use that I have encountered.

There is enough variety in the page layout style, print size, and workspace area that the worksheet or test can be made to fit any application.

I cannot say enough good things about Acces. It save us so much time in creating worksheets and test that I don't know how we got along without it. The program itself is great, and the customer support is second to none!

Michael Vecellio, Pine Grove JHS (NY)

One of the things that I have been trying to achieve, during the twenty-two years that I have been teaching math, is to produce tests that have the look of published tests. In the Seventies I tried to do it with a typewriter, and in the late Eighties I tried with different word processors. I often spent hours on a test with limited results. The first time I generated some sample test items with Acces I said, "This is what I've been trying to find for the last twenty years!"

I now use Acces to produce all of my algebra tests, both at the high school and community college level. The databases are great and I have found that it is easy to write and include new problems any time I want. I have tried a few of the databases that come from publishers with their texts, and they do not even come close to the quality of Acces. Have you considered contracting with a major publisher to provide a test bank for them?

I just gave the new 3.1 version a quick look, and the new features appear to be significant time savers. The support you have given me has been the best and most personal I have received for any software I have used. Keep up the great work!

Dan Zastoupil, Santana HS (CA)
For the staff of the mathematics department as Bishop Ford High School, I would like to express my gratitude for the updated Acces series. You know that we have been Acces users since 1992 and I cannot even estimate the number of hours we saved in preparing tests and examinations.

Each database is comprehensive and thorough and well exceeds our needs. We have never been short of questions. Unlike writing the questions on a ditto master, the typography is of the highest quality and Acces professionally prints our exams. Moreover, in the upper-level subjects such as Analysis and Calculus, we have included our own questions into the database. TeX is easy to learn and adding our own questions to the database is a snap. Math teachers who have never used the computer before find it extremely easy to use Acces.

We are particularly thankful for the updated New York State Regents database and the inclusion of Course III exams. Your revised setup by topic and level makes question selection uncomplicated and eliminates the 'cut and paste' of old regents tests, a method we used before Acces.

Not only do I thank you for the updates, but for the Acces newsletters, the many telephone support calls and workshops. Acces has been of immeasurable help to our math staff.

Joe Huchla, Math Dept Coord, Bishop Ford CCHS (NY)

I want to thank you for the Acces product. I was involved in starting up a new high school and our board was not ready to commit to any of the textbooks that were available at the time. Acces became my only serious resource.

Fortunately, it contained most of the information that I needed and what it did not, I was able to learn to write. Overall, the Extend portion helped me to write my own databases and extra TeX books helped me with writing my own problems.

My hat is off to you! I look forward to new databases and more EducAide products in the future.

Gerard Lapointe, St Joseph HS (SK)
Acces is a program that math teachers will love to use. We purchased both the Algebra database and the New York State database. I've shown the program to representatives from other school districts in our area and they too are very impressed with its capabilities.

Our department, for the past three years, has spent countless hours making worksheets and tests to fit our curriculum. We were impressed with the software called MathType and used it with great success.

Now your program has come along and not only has made our tasks easier, you've supplied problems with appropriate artwork. Your program will not only be able to develop homework assignments and tests, but we can now answer students' requests for extra problems to work on to perfect their skills.

Our department would like to applaud you. I'm sure we will be looking forward to new programs from your company in the future.

Terry Pelcher, Math Lead Teacher, Minerva Deland School (NY)

I have been using the Acces data banks for several years now. I have used it in my classes to create both daily work and practice tests.

I have utilized the program so much that I learned how to write my own problems and save them. I can even write my own multiple choice problems and add them to a test or create my own multiple choice test. The program automatically scrambles the answers and prints an answer key so making multiple versions of the same test simply requires the push of a button! All of my final exams for the last several years have been created with the Acces program.

Customer support has been awesome. The people at EducAide came out to our area and gave us an inservice and that's how I learned to create my own problems! They are only a phone call away. When the program "crashed", they sent out new software immediately. They have also continually upgraded the program and provided us with an opportunity to obtain the upgrades at very reasonable rates.

I just love this software!

Lisa Waihman, Fort Bend ISD (TX)
I have been using the Acces program from EducAide Software for two years now. I was impressed when I first saw it, and am even more impressed now. Acces has made my life so much easier. With Acces I can make a classwork paper or even a test in a matter of minutes, and even have it typed.

I guess the best thing about Acces is the ability to mix up the problems and the variety of problems to choose from. A person can find practically any kind of problem. Sure you can find the problems in workbooks or make them up, but to be able to type a couple of letters and numbers and get a typed copy printed along with an answer key is fabulous! Not only do I use Acces with my Algebra and Pre-Algebra classes, but the program has also been very helpful in preparing my students for the Texas tests.

Thanks for making my life easier.

Gary Leopold, Columbus JHS (TX)

I held the inservices on how to use the Acces program at our campus. I can’t tell you how excited teachers were about the program. Some responses I have had are “I love it!,” “This is something we’ve been needing,” “Now we can really personalize tutorials the way we need to!” Another idea the teachers thought of is to use the monthly calendars as a parental involvement tools. Thank you again for a great program.

Liz Gutierrez, Instr Guide, King ES (TX)
I am a high school math teacher in North Carolina that uses your Access Program frequently. Your program has been particularly useful in helping my students pass their End of Course Test!

We have random quizzes and worksheets throughout the year that are created from the NC1 and NC3 databases. Then, the last week before the exam we focus almost entirely on questions from the NC3 database. This has proven particularly effective! The students are amazed at how similar the exam is to our review. They feel more comfortable with the style of questions, and therefore they can focus on showing what they've learned.

I just wanted to write to say THANK YOU for your help and support over the past couple of years. The only constructive criticism that I have is that you must create a database for Geometry and Algebra 2 North Carolina State Objectives as well. Keep up the great work and thank you again!

Warm regards

Jill McClinton, Mitchell High School (NC)

As you know, Austin Academy here in Garland, Texas, has been a long time user of EducAide Acces. We first got interested in your products because of the MATHCOUNTS material that you have. Your material is still the best source of challenging problems for the classroom as well as for MATHCOUNTS practice.

I rely heavily on the MCC module for additional practice to prepare for regional and state competitions. After we work through the current handbook and the school tests, we use the Team and Target rounds from previous years to get ready for competition. After regionals, we go through the same procedure to get ready for State.

Having the catalog of problems handy at the computer all the time makes it very easy to locate just what I need to pull up to make practice material. As you probably know, teachers save copies of EVERYTHING but having the catalog of problems cuts down on the "piles and files".

I hope we can continue to update our modules with your new products. As a member of the Texas Literacy Team, one of our goals was to train teachers to use MATHCOUNTS in the classroom. We always made sure we let them know about EducAide Acces and how useful we have found it in the classroom.

Susan Like Burgess, Austin Academy (TX)
Dear EducAide:

I was privileged to speak with your support dept. earlier this afternoon regarding an answer key for the flash card segment of the Acces 4.3 program. Thank you for your time, consideration and affirmation of what I am doing in my classroom.

I use the Acces material on a daily basis. Rather than opening a textbook, I build my curriculum weekly based on the needs of my students from the prior week. The format of the Acces program allows me to have control of my own curriculum in a very user-friendly format.

Not only do I generate daily practice questions, I also use many of the questions to build my weekly tests. I appreciate the immediate access I have to the question bank and the ease of constructing my materials.

This is my fourth year to use the Acces materials. The new version is incredible. I love seeing the questions on the screen. The new questions are also constructed to the rigor of testing that our students endure.

Thank you so much for creating the materials and for making them available to classroom teachers who seek to make a difference in the lives of their students.

Again, thanks for your time today and for the time you take to ensure the integrity of your program.

Karen Wells, San Jacinto Elem School (TX)
